Mallorca awaits you...

2013 is an exciting year for all of us at Mallorca Farmhouses, it heralds our 25th year providing villa and farmhouse holidays in Mallorca. Since I started the company back in 1988, several members of my family, including my children, have contributed to different aspects of the business and are still involved to this day. Along with our experienced staff in the UK and Mallorca, we are dedicated to the provision of great family holidays just like the ones we have enjoyed ourselves in Mallorca over the years.

In this brochure you will find a snapshot of properties from each of the Exclusive, Superior and Essential collections. If you would like to find out more about a particular property or would like some advice about which one to choose, please give us a call or visit our easy to use website, www.mallorca.co.uk, where you can check availability and book online too.

We look forward to welcoming you to Mallorca.

Saludos Cordiales

The North coast – in a word, breathtaking

No trip to Mallorca would be complete without visiting the coastline of Cap de Formentor and the stunning views offered by this wild and rocky peninsula. Puerto Pollença offers a multitude of restaurants and shops, and a variety of activities, not to mention a stunning beach and bay. A few minutes away is Pollença old town with its picturesque square, artisan shops, tapas bars, churches, bustling Sunday market and the famous Calvari steps. A little further inland, and you will find Campanet and Búger, where life has retained a gentle, yet purposeful, pace of life.

The South and East coast – escape the crowds

Discover this tranquil side of Mallorca and the coastal resorts of Cala d’Or and Porto Colom, perfect for families and with an abundance of activities and excursions for you to experience. The impressive marina in Cala d’Or is a must by day or by night! Beach lovers will be spoilt for choice with some of the most stunning waters and sandy coves this side of the island. Inland and set amidst rolling countryside are the sleepy Mallorquin villages of Santanyí, s’Horta and Cas Concos, each with a charm and character of their own.

The Capital and the West coast
Palma, the island’s vibrant capital, is a bustling historic place with a magnificent 13th century cathedral – Le Seu. Enjoy the panoramic views of the city from the Castell de Belver, or take a horse drawn carriage through the cobbled streets of the old town, which boasts a variety of restaurants, tapas bars, cafes, shops, art galleries and museums. Head north west from Palma towards the Serra de Tramuntana mountains, passing valleys of olive and citrus groves, and you will discover the sophisticated Puerto Andratx and towns of Valldemossa, Deià and Sóller.

Mallorca’s climate
With a year round temperate climate you really can pick the time of year to suit your requirements. Spring and autumn are ideal times to visit if you don’t have to stick to the children’s holidays; the weather is comfortably warm and prices are at their most competitive. For the best temperatures and warmest seas, July and August are wonderful.

Mallorca awaits you...

2013 is an exciting year for all of us at Mallorca Farmhouses, it heralds our 25th year providing villa and farmhouse holidays in Mallorca. Since I started the company back in 1988, several members of my family, including my children, have contributed to different aspects of the business and are still involved to this day. Along with our experienced staff in the UK and Mallorca, we are dedicated to the provision of great family holidays just like the ones we have enjoyed ourselves in Mallorca over the years.

In this brochure you will find a snapshot of properties from each of the Exclusive, Superior and Essential collections. If you would like to find out more about a particular property or would like some advice about which one to choose, please give us a call or visit our easy to use website, www.mallorca.co.uk, where you can check availability and book online too.

We look forward to welcoming you to Mallorca.

Saludos Cordiales
